WHEREAS:

A. The Parties intend to participate in discussions and explore a potential business relationship and, in connection therewith, may disclose or exchange certain confidential and proprietary information, whether during such discussions or during the course of any subsequent business relationship, for the purpose of enabling the Parties to interact, evaluate opportunities, and work productively (hereinafter referred to as the "Purpose").

B. The Parties desire to protect such Confidential Information and ensure that the same is not disclosed, disseminated, or made available to any third party except with the prior written consent of the disclosing Party and strictly in accordance with the terms of this Agreement.

NOW THEREFORE, in consideration of the mutual covenants and undertakings contained herein, the Parties agree as follows:

1. DEFINITION OF CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION:

1.1. For the purposes of this Agreement, "Confidential Information" shall mean any and all information disclosed by one Party ("Disclosing Party") to the other Party ("Receiving Party"), whether directly or indirectly, in oral, written, graphic, electronic, digital, visual, machine-readable, physical, or any other form, including but not limited to technical data, specifications, designs, drawings, schematics, models, prototypes, software, firmware, source code, object code, algorithms, manufacturing processes, engineering information, research data, testing information, know-how, trade secrets, commercial information, pricing details, proposals, business plans, procurement information, customer and vendor information, financial information, market analysis, contracts, operational data, strategic plans, and intellectual property information.

Confidential Information shall further include defence-related information, military applications, strategic systems information, export-controlled data, controlled technical information, security protocols, operational methodologies, weapon system interfaces, avionics, electronics, communications systems, cybersecurity information, sensitive project-related information, and any information relating to government agencies, defence establishments, armed forces, public sector undertakings, OEMs, technology partners, or strategic customers. Confidential Information shall also include the existence, nature, and status of discussions, negotiations, transactions, collaborations, or business relationships between the Parties, as well as any analyses, compilations, reports, studies, summaries, notes, or other materials prepared by the Receiving Party containing, reflecting, or derived from such information. Confidential Information may be disclosed by the Disclosing Party or its affiliates, directors, officers, employees, consultants, advisors, representatives, licensors, customers, or partners, and shall be treated as confidential whether or not specifically marked or identified as "confidential". Each Party may act as a Disclosing Party and/or Receiving Party depending on the context of disclosure, and the obligations herein shall apply accordingly to each Party in its respective capacity.

2. EXCLUSIONS:

2.1. Confidential Information shall not include any information which the Receiving Party can demonstrate through written records: (i) is or becomes publicly available without any breach of this Agreement by the Receiving Party; (ii) was lawfully known to the Receiving Party prior to its disclosure by the Disclosing Party and was not subject to any confidentiality obligation; (iii) is lawfully obtained by the Receiving Party from a third party without breach of any confidentiality or legal obligation; or (iv) is independently developed by the Receiving Party without use of, reference to, or reliance upon the Confidential Information of the Disclosing Party.

3. OBLIGATIONS OF THE RECEIVING PARTY:

3.1. The Receiving Party shall use the Confidential Information solely for the Purpose and shall maintain the same in strict confidence using at least the same degree of care as it employs for protecting its own confidential and proprietary information, and in no event less than a reasonable standard of care.

3.2. The Receiving Party shall not disclose, publish, disseminate, transfer, or otherwise make available any Confidential Information to any third party except to its directors, officers, employees, consultants, advisors, affiliates, subcontractors, or representatives who have a strict need to know such information for the Purpose and who are bound by confidentiality obligations no less stringent than those contained herein.

3.3. The Receiving Party shall not copy, reproduce, reverse engineer, decompile, disassemble, modify, analyse, derive, or otherwise exploit the Confidential Information except to the extent strictly necessary for the Purpose.

3.4. The Receiving Party shall comply with all applicable laws, rules, regulations, export control requirements, defence procurement regulations, security protocols, and governmental requirements applicable to the Confidential Information and shall implement and maintain appropriate administrative, technical, electronic, and physical safeguards to protect the Confidential Information from unauthorized access, disclosure, misuse, theft, or compromise.

3.5. The Receiving Party shall promptly notify the Disclosing Party upon becoming aware of any unauthorized disclosure, misuse, breach, cyber incident, or compromise involving the Confidential Information and shall cooperate with the Disclosing Party in mitigating the effects thereof.

4. DEFENCE COMPLIANCE:

4.1. The Parties acknowledge and agree that certain Confidential Information exchanged under this Agreement may relate to defence, aerospace, homeland security, strategic systems, controlled technologies, export-controlled items, or other sensitive information subject to applicable national security laws, defence procurement regulations, export control laws, SCOMET regulations, governmental approvals, licensing requirements, and other applicable laws of India or any other relevant jurisdiction.

4.2. The Receiving Party shall strictly comply with all such applicable laws, regulations, directives, and security protocols and shall not export, transfer, disclose, transmit, provide access to, or otherwise make available any such Confidential Information, directly or indirectly, to any third party, foreign national, foreign entity, or jurisdiction without obtaining all necessary approvals, permissions, licenses, or authorizations from the competent governmental authorities.

4.3. The Receiving Party shall further ensure that the Confidential Information is handled, stored, accessed, and transmitted only through secure and authorized means and solely for the Purpose contemplated under this Agreement.

5. PERMITTED DISCLOSURE:

5.1. Notwithstanding anything contained herein, the Receiving Party may disclose Confidential Information to the extent such disclosure is required pursuant to any applicable law, regulation, judicial order, governmental authority, stock exchange requirement, or statutory obligation, provided that, to the extent legally permissible, the Receiving Party shall promptly notify the Disclosing Party in writing prior to such disclosure and shall reasonably cooperate with the Disclosing Party in seeking protective orders, confidential treatment, or any other appropriate remedy. Any disclosure made pursuant to this Clause shall be limited strictly to the minimum portion of the Confidential Information required to be disclosed for compliance with such legal or regulatory requirement.

6. INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY RIGHTS:

6.1. Nothing contained in this Agreement shall be construed as granting, transferring, assigning, licensing, or otherwise conferring upon the Receiving Party any rights, title, interest, ownership, or entitlement, whether expressly or impliedly, in or to any intellectual property rights, technology, inventions, patents, copyrights, trademarks, trade secrets, designs, technical know-how, manufacturing processes, software, source codes, proprietary information, or other rights belonging to the Disclosing Party.

6.2. All Confidential Information and all intellectual property rights therein shall remain the sole and exclusive property of the Disclosing Party. Any disclosure of Confidential Information under this Agreement is made solely for the Purpose and shall not be interpreted as granting any right to use, commercialize, reproduce, manufacture, reverse engineer, modify, develop, or exploit the same except as expressly permitted under this Agreement.

7. RETURN OR DESTRUCTION OF CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION:

7.1. Upon the written request of the Disclosing Party or upon termination or expiry of this Agreement, the Receiving Party shall promptly cease all use of the Confidential Information and shall return or destroy all Confidential Information, including all copies, extracts, reproductions, summaries, notes, records, and materials containing or derived from such Confidential Information, whether maintained in physical, electronic, digital, or any other form, except to the extent that retention of any such Confidential Information is required by applicable law, regulation, court order, or mandatory record-keeping obligations, in which case the Receiving Party shall continue to be bound by the confidentiality obligations under this Agreement in respect of such retained information and shall notify the Disclosing Party of such retention in writing. Upon request, the Receiving Party shall confirm such return or destruction in writing.

8. TERM AND SURVIVAL:

8.1. This Agreement shall come into force on the Effective Date and shall remain valid and binding for a period of 5 years, unless terminated earlier by either Party by giving thirty (30) days' prior written notice to the other Party. Notwithstanding the termination or expiry of this Agreement for any reason whatsoever, the obligations of confidentiality, non-use, defence compliance, export control compliance, protection of intellectual property, restrictions on disclosure, and all other obligations intended by their nature to survive shall continue to remain in full force and effect for a further period of Five (5) years from the date of such termination or expiry.

9. NO OBLIGATION:

9.1. Nothing contained in this Agreement shall obligate either Party to disclose any specific Confidential Information, enter into any further discussions, proceed with any proposed transaction or business relationship, or execute any definitive agreement or arrangement.

9.2. Each Party reserves the right, in its sole discretion, to terminate discussions or negotiations at any time without assigning any reason whatsoever.

9.3. Any future engagement, collaboration, transaction, or commercial arrangement between the Parties shall be subject to separate definitive agreements executed in writing by the Parties.

10. NO AGENCY OR PARTNERSHIP:

10.1. Nothing contained in this Agreement shall be deemed to create or constitute any partnership, joint venture, agency, employment, representative, fiduciary, or other similar relationship between the Parties. Neither Party shall have the authority to act for, bind, represent, or incur any obligation or liability on behalf of the other Party in any manner whatsoever, and each Party shall remain an independent entity acting on its own behalf.

11. REMEDIES:

11.1. The Parties acknowledge and agree that any unauthorized disclosure, misuse, breach, or violation of the Confidential Information or any obligations contained under this Agreement may result in irreparable harm, substantial financial loss, strategic prejudice, reputational damage, security risks, and other serious consequences to the Disclosing Party, particularly considering the defence, aerospace, homeland security, and strategic nature of the information being exchanged, for which monetary damages alone may not constitute an adequate remedy.

11.2. Accordingly, without prejudice to any other rights or remedies available under applicable law, equity, contract, or otherwise, the Disclosing Party shall be entitled to seek immediate injunctive relief, interim relief, temporary or permanent restraining orders, specific performance, equitable remedies, or any other appropriate relief from any court, arbitral tribunal, or competent authority to prevent or restrain any actual, threatened, or continuing breach of this Agreement by the Receiving Party.

11.3. The Receiving Party further acknowledges that the Disclosing Party shall also be entitled to recover all direct losses, damages, liabilities, costs, expenses, and reasonable legal fees incurred as a consequence of such breach. The exercise of any remedy under this Agreement shall not preclude the Disclosing Party from pursuing any additional remedies available under applicable law.

12. GOVERNING LAW AND DISPUTE RESOLUTION:

12.1. This Agreement shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of India. Any dispute arising out of or in connection with this Agreement shall as far as possible, be resolved amicably through mutual discussions between the Parties. In the event such dispute is not resolved within thirty (30) days from the date of commencement of discussions, the same shall be referred to and finally resolved by arbitration in accordance with the provisions of the Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996, as amended from time to time. The arbitration shall be conducted by a sole arbitrator mutually appointed by the Parties, failing which the arbitrator shall be appointed in accordance with the provisions of the Arbitration and Conciliation Act, 1996. The seat and venue of arbitration shall be Bangalore, India, and the arbitration proceedings shall be conducted in the English language. The arbitral award shall be final and binding upon the Parties. Subject to the foregoing, the courts at Bangalore, karnataka shall have exclusive jurisdiction in respect of matters arising out of this Agreement.

13. ENTIRE AGREEMENT:

13.1. This Agreement constitutes the complete and entire understanding between the Parties with respect to the subject matter hereof and supersedes all prior and contemporaneous discussions, negotiations, communications, understandings, representations, arrangements, correspondence, and agreements, whether oral or written, relating thereto. The Parties acknowledge that they have not relied upon any representation, warranty, assurance, or undertaking other than those expressly set forth in this Agreement. No amendment, modification, variation, waiver, or supplement to this Agreement shall be valid or binding unless made in writing and duly executed by authorized representatives of both Parties.

14. SEVERABILITY:

14.1. If any provision, clause, or part of this Agreement is held to be invalid, illegal, unenforceable, or contrary to applicable law by any court, tribunal, or competent authority, such provision shall, to the extent of such invalidity or unenforceability, be deemed severed from this Agreement without affecting the validity, legality, or enforceability of the remaining provisions of this Agreement, which shall continue to remain in full force and effect. The Parties shall, in good faith, endeavour to replace any such invalid or unenforceable provision with a valid and enforceable provision that most closely reflects the original intent and commercial purpose of the Parties.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF the Parties hereto have executed this Agreement through their duly authorized representatives on the date first written above.
